

Answering questions

Jesus is our example, we must live as he lived, and according to his commandments. I address to all those who frequent the website The path of truth, I ask you the following questions:

Can Christ be against himself?

Can Christ deny himself?

Can Christ persecute himself?

Can Christ hate Himself?

Can Christ wish himself evil?

Can Christ want to destroy the lives of those who believe in him?

Has Christ taught anything and left us free to obey or not?

Did Christ accept, tolerate and approve of sin and iniquity?

Did Christ say that we can persevere in sin and still be able to receive salvation even if we do not do the will of God?

Did Christ say that everyone who believed in Him would automatically receive the Holy Spirit without having to change anything in their sinful lives?

Were you able to answer "Yes" to any of these questions? NO to any of these questions!

So I push my thinking to this: If you say you represent Christ on this earth, then why do you persecute people who believe in Him?

Why do you want to destroy their lives?

Why do you enjoy offending them, slandering them, etc. and spreading your lies on the web?

What is your reason for using The Path of Truth? Is there any explanation that can indicate the necessity, need and usefulness of having created this site?

Answer the next questions:

Has the Lord Jesus Christ asked us to persecute one another to destroy the lives of other people in His name to prove our faith in Him?

Has the Lord Jesus Christ asked us to destroy the lives of lost sheep, to lead them to the wolves, to lead them astray and to instruct them in lies?

Has the Lord asked us to teach anything other than what He has said in the Word?

Has the Lord mentioned that the Bible is not the only book to read, but that we should also learn by reading the teachings of men?

Has the Lord warned us not to teach other doctrines, and not to cling to fables, nor to philosophy, which produce discussions rather than advance the work of God in faith?

Has the Lord warned us that the purpose of the commandment is charity from a pure heart, a good conscience, and a sincere faith?

Has the Lord told us that only the Holy Spirit can give us the revelations to know the Word of God, and that we need to have a true relationship with the Lord to get it?

Has the Lord told us that everything begins with repentance?

Has the Lord warned us not to love the world or the things in the world?

Has the Lord warned us that we must not think, speak or act like the world, otherwise we will be under the control of Satan?

Adulterers that you are, do you not know that the love of the world is enmity with God? Whoever wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God.

Satan wants to destroy mankind, but especially the Church of God, so what are you doing? What kingdom do you belong to? Do you know it?

Have you ever thought before talking to others, writing a bad comment or publishing something against others to hurt them?

Why do you act the way you do? Why do you know this?

Why do you have such a bad heart? Do you know? You have let anger turn into hate! You return evil for good and hate for love.

Have you ever asked yourself this question:
Why would I do such great evil and sin against God?

Can you make man right against God? Do you walk as an enemy of the cross by being against the friends of Christ?

You don't seem to be people who take the time to think before you act or speak. It is sad to see all the evil you have done for years, I beg you for the love of God, stop right now and take the time to analyze and think about what you want to do with your life for the time you have left on this earth. No one knows how many years we have left to live, so think about it seriously, do you want to continue doing evil under the influence of satan or do you want to get away from evil and choose to do good as the Lord asks us to do by becoming his disciple? The Lord has been very patient and he has warned you several times, do not be stubborn, obstinate, do not decline the divine call and repent it is really important.

Take a good look at this picture!

I ask you to analyze your spiritual life. Which of these two paths do you think you have taken? Do you think you have made the right choice, having chosen the narrow path that leads to the Lord through a life of holiness, piety and justice by desiring good for others and doing what is good and right in the eyes of the Lord by having a heart entirely devoted to him alone?

Everything in your life, all your thoughts, the way you act and speak describes what you love, demonstrates what is deep in your heart and highlights the kingdom you belong to.

It is written: You also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inwardly there is only hypocrisy and disobedience to God. Matthew 23:28
